

1st Annual SIOP Master's Student Consortium

April 26th, 2007

Marriott Marquis Hotel, NY

Essential organization skills: The most important things that no one taught you in graduate school

Christine Stanek
Sr. Manager, Global Development
Amgen
Thousand Oaks, CA

How to find a job in an I/O related field: Networking, interviewing, and resumes

Ali Jerden, Senior Consultant
The Coca-Cola Company
Atlanta, GA

Pamela Karle, Employee Satisfaction
Program Manager
IBM, New York, NY

Moving up and moving out: How to get promoted and when to change companies

Mike Erisman
Senior Director Human Resources
Microsoft Marketing
Redmond, WA

Management consulting: Realities and myths about the role of consultant

Allison Lamazor, Assessment & Selection
Talent Acquisition & Development
American Express, New York, NY

Jessica Meyer, Consultant
Personnel Decisions International
New York, NY

The consortium is part of the SIOP Annual Conference and is for students enrolled in master's programs in I/O psychology and OB/HRM. The program includes speakers who graduated from I/O master's programs and have excelled as managers and consultants.

Enrollment is limited. See your advisor if you would like to attend. 1:00 - 7:00 PM. $50 includes materials and refreshments.

Questions: Contact Dan Sachau, Psychology Department, Minnesota State University. sachau@mnsu.edu