

HOGAN

ASSESSMENT SYSTEMS

- Do you have demonstrated business development skills and clients who will follow you?
- Do you have an advanced degree (M.A., M.B.A., Ph.D.) and at least 4-6 years post-graduate experience?
- Are you willing to mentor junior staff members, share your experiences, and support your teammates on a daily basis?
- Are you able to socialize with clients, manage projects, travel frequently and have fun with your coworkers?
- Do you value working with the top companies in the world?
- Are you willing to give your best...and get the best in return?

Hogan Assessment Systems is an interdisciplinary consulting firm that combines the science of personality assessment with practical business experience to meet the challenges of employee selection and development. We founded Hogan to take the message to the business community. Today, we continue to build our position as the innovative leader in providing personality-based assessment solutions. After 25 successful years, Hogan Assessment Systems is still growing, and we are seeking individuals who share this same vision and entrepreneurial spirit to join our consulting team.

SENIOR CONSULTANT OPENINGS (SELECTION PRACTICE)

Hogan has an immediate need for Senior Consultants to join the Hogan Selection Practice in our Tulsa headquarters. Senior Consultants should have at least 3-4 years post-graduate experience in selection system design and implementation, and an interest in assessment-driven development and team-building, as well. Senior Selection Consultants are responsible for actively developing client accounts through in-bound and out-bound sales, managing large scale selection and development projects, providing expertise in process and product development and mentoring junior staff members. Hogan provides a competitive compensation program and a unique consultant driven environment. Thus, if you're looking for a new place to hang your professional hat...

You can join market leader who has had a constant presence in the field of I/O psychology - one that has enjoyed consistent and sustained growth for nearly a quarter of a century.

- OR -

You can choose to become just another number, in just another large company, doing just another consulting job.
